From the President

Dear Friends and Colleagues:

The InterNational Academy of Dispute Resolution (INADR) is asking you to sponsor one of its worldwide activities from international mediation competitions to its Annual World Congress. Since 2002, our goal is to introduce mediation worldwide to make the global community a better place in which to live. To this end, we have held mediation tournaments in areas where mediation is either unknown, or used rarely to resolve differences. Tournaments have been held in Dubai, United Arab Emirates, Bhopal, India, Kiev, Ukraine as well as Great Britain and the Irish Republic. Future tournaments will be held in Singapore, Brazil and Mexico. We have started a ripple effect which we hope will become a tsunami similar to the one that has touched the shores of America.

Building peace through mediation and the effects of our efforts cannot be underestimated. One Ukrainian student who was instrumental in organizing a 3-day training session and 2-day tournament in Kiev, Ukraine wrote:

It has been an honor for us to have the opportunity to arrange this event with the support of INADR. More than 50 students from Ukraine, Poland, Lithuania, Latvia, and Slovakia took part in the intensive 3-day training and the 2-day competition. The spirit of the tournament was full of motivation and friendliness. The students highly valued the knowledge they got and said they planned to use their skills in solving real cases; one student has made up her mind to specialize in the field of ADR. A lot of students are already planning their teams for next year's tournament and our foreign participants said they would love to have such an event in their law school.

Taras Shevchenko National University of Kyiv*

A student from Krakow, Poland stated:

Entering the Taras Shevchenko National University Mediation Tournament, we were hoping to acquire knowledge about mediation and the ability to use this knowledge in practice. We didn't expect it would change (our) way of thinking. Our new friends showed us how to stop building walls and start building bridges. We were told to be patient, creative and flexible. And the end of the stay, we noticed that this amazing mediation training was implemented into our everyday life... We realized that in order to fulfill (your) dreams you must face the reality first. Words are not enough to express how much we appreciate this Mediation Tournament experience. We can only write one simple thing—thank you with all our hearts.

*Agnieszka Majka, Student
Jagiellonian University of Krakow, Poland*

These heartfelt words show the difference in thinking of students in only a few days with INADR's training, simulations and relating situations to real world problems. We hope to continue our work for many years with your help. Your sponsorship will help us plan, train, and deliver quality events with students, colleges and universities, and with more global communities.

INADR needs your generous support to help train more students in dispute resolution and nurture them to be community leaders. Our efforts promote peace, cultivate civility, and other ways of thinking about conflict. Please explore the sponsorship packages available for specific event functions such as these foreign invitational mediation tournaments praised by these two students in this letter, or support us with a premiere sponsorship and we will use your dollars where they are need most in the coming year. We are planning 19 student mediation events and developing a student leadership council.
